

MOVING YOUR TECHNOLOGY PLANS FORWARD

Technology is, now more than ever, vital to business. And, whether you're looking to optimise your operations, enable your workforce, improve customer experience, or put sustainability at the heart of your purchases, our adaptable and agile approach to financing technology could make a world of difference to your business.

MAKE YOUR TECH GAME CHANGING

Technology rental

Updating and refreshing hardware is a constant – and often wasteful – cycle. We could help you break that cycle through renting your technology. We rent all types of tech and it could be an especially cost-effective way of funding your laptops, tablets or smartphones. And because we remarket the hardware, or recycle in compliance with Waste Electronic and Electrical Equipment Directive standards, it could be the most sustainable approach too.

Intellectual property funding

This pioneering funding solution allows you to leverage the Intellectual Property (IP) in software developed by your organisation. This releases cash for reinvestment in further software development or elsewhere in the business – an innovative way of raising funds for your business, without sacrificing control.

A LEADING PROVIDER OF TECHNOLOGY FUNDING

At Lombard, we've been lending for over 150 years. But it's our pioneering attitude that can make us stand out from the crowd.

Asset finance enables you to be more agile and invest in game-changing technologies as they appear, and it could also remove the sometimes less apparent expenses of owning technology assets such as depreciation.

Our knowledgeable Technology Specialist Sales Team are here to listen to your needs and provide innovative solutions when investing in technology. Whether that be minimising the risks of ownership, cutting down on wasted spending or unlocking the value in software intellectual property, our team will offer responsible and intelligent solutions tailored to specific requirements.
